Executive Programmes

2017

INTRODUCTION

The executive programme serves to provide individuals and groups the opportunity to share in the knowledge base developed and maintained by the academics of the School of Public Leadership for formal education programmes and research in the fields of public policy and management, sustainable development and environmental management without registering for a degree or diploma.

The products include free standing short courses in all respects equal to modules of formal education programmes as well as packages of courses referred to as management development programmes. Should assessments of courses be completed successfully, certificates of competence of Stellenbosch University are issued and recognised as credit bearing when a participant would enrol for the formal degree or diploma programme they belong to. Understandably, some conditions apply to this provision, and further information can be provided on request.

As the products of the executive programme are self-funded and must in terms of Stellenbosch University policy be financially sustainable, we have created two kinds of products:

- The first, normally characterised by bigger enrolment numbers, will be offered as scheduled below, regardless of the numbers enrolled. Only exceptional circumstances not related to enrolment numbers will result in their cancellation and such cancellation will be communicated clearly and well ahead of their scheduled presentation. Please follow this link to apply: <http://www.schoolofpublicleadership.co.za/pre-registration/>
- The second group, normally more specialised in nature and typically of interest to groups, rather than individuals, are listed and will be scheduled for presentation in consultation with prospective participants when adequate interest is shown. Please follow this link to have you're interested registered: <http://www.schoolofpublicleadership.co.za/nqf-registration/>
